A YOUNG GIRL WITH HIGH CHALLENGES

In a bustling metropolitan city in India, a young girl faced an unimaginable tragedy: she lost her parents to the dual shadows of alcoholism and disease, forever altering the course of her life. Being a sole bread winner of the family, her elder brother fostered up to 16 years of age (11th grade). The COME Missionaries encountered her and warmly recommended the Community Development Center (CDC) as a vibrant opportunity for young girls and boys to further their education in school and college. Inspired by their guidance, she embraced the suggestion and became a member of the CDC, eager to embark on her educational journey. Through COME, she learned about God and accepted Jesus Christ as her personal saviour. She is on the verge of completing her first year BBA course, in a women's college. She gained good understanding and high aptitude through her life challenges and it helped her to dream as an IAS officer. We believe that, by the God's grace and hard work will certainly pay back to achieve her dream. She developed a habit of helping other kids (who lost their parents) by her skills and support. Let our prayer and blessing be continued for this young girl, till she reaches her vision.
